

INGERSOLL'S BURIAL TO BE VERY SIMPLE

IF IT IS POSSIBLE THERE WILL BE NO ADDRESS.

Arrangements for the funeral of the famous Agnostic will be completed today or as soon as the prostrated family shall have recovered from the shock.

New York, July 22.—[Special]—Arrangements for the funeral of the late Robert G. Ingersoll will be completed today, when the prostrated family of the dead agnostic shall have fully recovered from the awful shock.

Already it has been determined that the funeral shall be purely secular and as simple as it can be and it is possible there will be no address.

The interment will probably be at Dobbs Ferry or Tarrytown. Arrangements are being made to take a plaster cast of Ingersoll's face.

While Col. Ingersoll had suffered from heart trouble for a long time and was undoubtedly aware that a fatal termination of his ailment was inevitable, the end was believed to be a long way off, and the suddenness of his death was a terrible shock to the members of his household.

He had left his son-in-law on the porch with the remark that he would soon return and play a game of billiards. Ten minutes later, as he was conferring with his wife as to what they should have for luncheon, he fell dead from a rocking chair. Doctors were hastily summoned, but they could only say that he was past human aid. Angina pectoris was what the doctors called the ailment to which he had succumbed.

Col. Ingersoll spent the morning in a hammock and on the veranda with members of his family. When he started upstairs at 12:30 o'clock he stopped in his wife's room. While talking with her he leaned his head on his hand, which rested on the back of the chair in which he sat. Responding to his wife's query, he said he was feeling better. Those were his last words. A second after they were uttered the sudden summons came.

A man of picturesque career, an orator possessed of unsurpassed eloquence and rhetorical ability, a lawyer and an impassioned pleader, a politician who never sought public office, a past master in the art of invective, satire and pathos, a word painter whose equal a century has not produced, a welling fountain of wit and humor, a humanitarian with a soul full of poetry and love for his fellow-man, a scholar who challenged the admiration of the learned, a constant friend, enjoyable companion, a loving husband and father, an agnostic who stirred the religious world as even Voltaire, Paine or Tyndall could not, a lecturer of international renown, the best loved and most cordially hated man in Christendom—such a man was Col. Ingersoll. Thousands will deeply mourn the passing of a brilliant star and still other thousands will look upon his death as the close of a career that was a constant threat to the foundation principles of the Christian religion.

Col. Ingersoll was born in Dresden, N. Y., on Aug. 11, 1833. His father was a Congregational clergyman whose rigid adherence to the tenets of the church stood in bold contrast to his son's tearing down of sacred things. In 1843 the family removed to Illinois, where young Ingersoll studied law, finally opening an office in Shawneetown. In 1857 he removed to Peoria, and his life there was made the basis of one of the most bitter attacks ever made upon him. In September, 1889, after the Christian world had come to realize the purport of Col. Ingersoll's teaching, Prof. Clark Braden published a pamphlet which was distributed throughout the country and which charged him with nearly all the crimes in the calendar. To this attack Col. Ingersoll remained silent and refused to make any defense.

Early in the civil war Mr. Ingersoll became colonel of the Eleventh Illinois cavalry and united with the republican party.

It was Col. Ingersoll who in the republican national convention of 1870 nominated James G. Blaine for the presidency and dubbed him the "plumed knight"—a name which followed him to his grave. From that time dates Col. Ingersoll's fame as a campaign speaker, and ever afterward his services were in great demand. Time after time he was called upon to help the republican standard to victory by his matchless eloquence, and he always complied. His services to his party were rendered without demand for reward, and it is probable that he hoped for none.

It was about this time, 1877, that he entered the lecture field. It did not take him long to have the entire Christian world arrayed against him, and because of this there was little prospect of his political preferment. The very mention of his name as minister to Germany during the Hayes administration raised such a storm that all talk of such preferment was quickly abandoned. His friends say he would have rejected the post had it been offered to him, but he would have appreciated the mere tender as a sufficient reward for his services. Public sentiment was so strong, though, that even this gratification was denied him. When the published works of Col. Ingersoll began to appear the storm of protest and the denunciation they aroused made him the most talked of man in the world. "The Gods," "Ghosts" and "Some Mistakes of Moses" are three of his works that were anathematized by the entire Christian world. Ministers of the gospel added fuel to the discussion they aroused by refutation, and the war of words waged warmer and warmer until it was partially burned out by its own intensity. Through it all Col. Ingersoll pursued the path he had marked for himself, and when he walked all the world turned to look, and when he wrote, all the world paused to read, and when he spoke all the world listened.

While many who admired his genius and talent were wont to turn from this picture with feelings of regret, this was not the case with that other picture of Ingersoll, the lawyer and friend of the distressed. After the convention of 1876 he went to Washington and joined his brother in the practice of law. One of his passions in life was the love he bore his brother, E. C. Ingersoll. When the latter died Col. Ingersoll pronounced the funeral oration, and there are few bits of English prose-poetry of greater beauty. Later he abandoned his practice in Washington and went to New York, where his success continued and grew. It was said that his yearly income reached $250,000. He was a corporation lawyer, and the fees he is said to have obtained sometimes amounted to small fortunes.

The history of the American bar furnishes few jury pleaders of the power of Col. Ingersoll.

Seventy-six hours of continuous heavy rain has sent all the streams out of their banks, so that San Fernando is practically surrounded by water.

Mob Lynches Five Italians.

Tallahassee, La., July 22.—Five Italians, said to have been implicated in a plot to kill Dr. J. Ford Hodges, a prominent physician who was wounded by one of the victims, were lynched Thursday night in the jailyard here. The victims are James, Frank and Charles De Patta, brothers; S. Feducio and John Cerano, all natives of Calabria, Italy. The names of the members of the mob are known. The grand jury has been called in extra session to investigate the lynchings, which may become the subject of an international controversy, for none of the victims, it is believed, had taken out his naturalization papers.

KNAACK PUNISHED FOR ANOTHER'S DEED

MAN WRITES THAT HE IS GUILTY OF THE CRIME.

Burglars Get $80 From the Store of Andrew Lohnes at Sun Prairie—Colored People of Wisconsin to Celebrate Emancipation—News From Badgerdom.

Wauchara, Wis., July 22.—John Clark, clerk of the circuit court of Wauchara county, has received a letter from a man in the northern part of this state showing that his conscience troubles him for a crime committed ten years ago in Wauchara county, near Springwater, for which crime Ferdinand Knaack is now serving a life sentence in the state prison.

Ferdinand Knaack was convicted at the September term of the circuit court of Wauchara county in 1889, for poisoning his wife. Knaack had married the poisoned woman about one month after burying his first wife, who died under suspicious circumstances. At the trial chemists who analyzed the stomach found strychnine. Wauchara druggists identified Knaack as the person to whom the drug had been sold.

The man writing the letter claims that at the time of the woman's death he was in love with Knaack's wife. When he was discarded for another he had sworn revenge. He went to her home in Springwater and pretending to be on friendly terms, gave her some poisoned candy, which he claims caused her death.

"Kissing Bug" Stings a Girl.

Lenosha, Wis., July 22.—The deadly "kissing bug," so called, it is thought, has visited Lenosha. Last night Miss Katrina Klutz of Pleasant Prairie, was stung by an insect which the doctors say is the famous kissing bug. Her story is that she was sleeping in her bed room with one of the windows open. About 5 o'clock this morning she was awakened by a sharp pain on her lip. She caught the bug thinking it was a beetle, and threw it to the floor. When she got out of bed this morning she found her lips very much swollen. The swelling has been kept down today, but the doctor does not know what the outcome will be. The bug was found on the floor where the girl had thrown it, and placed in alcohol. It is not much unlike the ordinary wood beetle.

Madison, Wis., July 22.—The state land commissioners have decided to loan $40,000 from the state trust funds to the special commission created by the legislature to build the State Historical Library building, now being constructed on the university campus. The legislature last winter appropriated $500,000 for the construction of the building, to be paid to the commission in installments of $100,000 a year for five years. The law also made it possible for the commission to borrow money for the work in advance of its being paid under the law, and the loan is made under this section of the statute.

ELIHU ROOT ACCEPTS

To Enter Upon the Discharge of His Duties in War Department, Shortly.

Washington, July 22.—[Special]—Elihu Root has accepted the war portfolio. He is expected to enter upon the discharge of his new duties in a short time.

Washington, July 22.—The president has decided that Elihu Root of New York is the man he would like for secretary of war, and he has conferred with Senator Platt as to the wisdom of inviting Mr. Root into the cabinet. It is understood that Mr. Platt acquiesced in the selection.

Senator Platt told Mr. McKinley that Gen. Francis V. Greene was his personal choice, but that he recognized the wisdom of the president's desire for an eminent lawyer, and agreed with the executive upon Elihu Root, who will be tendered the place.

After a later conference President McKinley sent a telegram to Elihu Root, asking him to accept the secretaryship of war.

While the statement cannot be made of definite knowledge that it is true, it appears probable from what was learned that Mr. Platt had seen Mr. Root, and the latter had told him that he would take the war portfolio if the tender were formally made by the president.

It was said at the white house and by Senator Platt that the announcement of the appointment of Gen. Alger's successor would be made to-day in all probability. This indicates that the president expects a prompt affirmative response from Mr. Root.

TRAMP CROP FLOURISHES

Moonlight Nights Help Greatly in the Harvest

The police report the summer crop of tramps as being in a most flourishing state. The warm weather of the past few days has increased the number of the "lazine hobosins" variety and a good yield is promised. They thrive best in the rich cinder soil of the railroad yards, but plenty of rest and malt extract is needed to strengthen and mature the weed. The moonlight nights of the past week have helped the harvest of the crop and a number have been shipped to the northern markets during the last few days. The work is carried on in the night and the harvesting is done with a large hickory club, the business end of which should be fitted with long steel spikes to insure success during the operation. Chief Hogan, of the harvesters, fears that if the work is not completed soon an epidemic of "rush-of-club-to-the-head" will entirely kill the crop.

Rests with the President.

Washington, July 22.—Gen. Otis has explained by cable his controversy with the newspaper correspondents in Manila and has notified the president that he is willing to abolish the censorship if the government at Washington desires it. He has no fears of what the correspondents may send to this country if the president has not. He throws the responsibility upon the government here, and if the censorship continues it will be because the president and secretary of war think it advisable. There has been no decision, but the president is not disposed to give the press correspondents too much license.

More Time on New Cruisers.

Washington, July 22.—The board of naval chiefs decided to give thirty months for building the six new protected cruisers, instead of twenty-four months, as was first contemplated. This is due to the rush of private work at all the shipyards, which made the yards indisposed to bid on the vessels unless more time was given.

New York Strike a Failure.

Waiter Baker & Co.'s BREAKFAST COCOA.

Costs Less than One Cent a Cup. Be sure that the Package bears our Trade-Mark. A Perfect Food. Pure, Nutritious, Delicious.

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd. Established 1780.

WALKING DOWN OF ECRU VEILING FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

A very charming treatment of ecru veiling is represented in the illustration printed herewith and taken from Harper's Bazar. The skirt shows lines that suggest a double over-dress. In reality there is but one long over-drapery, the second line being formed by a flat flounce adjusted to the main skirt. The latter is a tight sheath in form, and allows for a ten-inch train. The over-dress closes at a point just at the left of the center of the front, and is fastened by two large rolled-gold buttons. The flounce and over dress are trimmed with stitched veiling bands, patterns of which do not accompany that of the skirt. The bodice has a very pretty rolling collar, with lower ends that form inward-turning revers. The back is seamless, with a group of vertical lined tucks extending across the shoulders, and reaching only to an ordinary yoke line. The slight fullness from these tucks is gathered into a central point at the waist line. The sleeves are cut to the form, but are shaped about the lower forearm by long line tucks marked on the pattern. The fullness of these tucks forms a narrow ruffle that sits like a ruching about the hand. The belt is shaped to the figure, and has rows of stitching like those seen on the band trimming. The original model was made over a leaf green taffeta, and this was employed for the linings of the bands and for the rolled collar. The tucks and bands were stitched with green silk of the same shade. The high collar and chemisette were of deep yellowish cream silk under white lace, and a slight jabot of the latter ornamented the edge of the front fastening of the bodice. A very pretty effect is given by placing the centre of the back of the over-dress pattern upon a fold of the goods. In this way a habit effect may be easily secured when veiling or cashmere or any wide width goods is employed.

To make this costume as shown in the illustration 10 yards of veiling 44 inches wide will be required, and 14 yards of taffeta.

the admission at ten cent, which should fill the auditorium to its utmost capacity.

The program last evening consisted of twenty-five numbers, among the best of which were the xylophone solo, "Wood Nymph Gallop;" the funny talks, "Uncle Josh in a Department Store," "Uncle Josh at the Circus," "Uncle Josh at Delmonico's," the vocal solos, "She Was Bred in Old Kentucky" and "Larboard Watch;" the comic songs, "You Can't Think of Everything" and "How Would You Like to Be the Ice Man." The instrumental music was perhaps the most enjoyed and were clear and distinct.

Ten new selections will be included in this evening's entertainment.

CAPT. C. W. JOHNSON NO LONGER WARDEN

MAN WHO MADE ARRESTS AT KOSHKONONG "LET OUT."

Suspended From His Duties and Was Shorn of His Authority on July 1—Charge Was Made That He Was Not an Efficient Officer in Handling Fishermen.

Captain C. W. Johnson, the game warden who made so many arrests at Lake Koshkonong, is no longer in the service of the state.

Capt. Johnson resides at Oshkosh, and The Northwestern tells the story as follows:

"It was announced today that Capt. C. W. Johnson, who has served as deputy game and fish warden for the territory embracing Lakes Butte des Morts and Poygan with their tributary water, since 1895, has been notified that his services are no longer needed and that his suspension from the position was to take place on July 1.

"Mr. Johnson could not be found today to verify the report. Col. H. B. Harshaw, who acted as assistant attorney general for several years and who assisted Captain Johnson in his prosecution of the work of protecting the fish and game of the waters of this vicinity, was visited, and it was learned that Mr. Johnson had given him the information of his suspension.

"Colonel Harshaw was the prosecuting attorney in the fish cases that were brought when the law first went into effect, and has been in close touch with the work of the game warden for several years. He stated this morning that he believed Captain Johnson to be an efficient officer. His territory was so large that without the aid of numerous assistants he was unable to patrol the lakes and rivers with only a rowboat at his disposal. It was impossible for him to put a complete stop to the traffic, and the complaints came pouring in that the deputy warden was not an efficient officer.

"For several years it was known that a sentiment that was destined to work the game warden considerable harm was in the air against him, and the removal is believed to be due to this opposition. It has been charged that he did not prosecute the work of protecting the fish with the diligence necessary to suppress illegal fishing, but the warden has his friends, as well as his enemies.

"Who will succeed Mr. Johnson has not yet been settled, although it is understood that Tom Barlow, janitor of the court house, has a petition, signed by numerous people interested in the protection of game, and it is believed that he will be named."

build the house around the bath room.

SOME PEOPLE say. The modern idea in building is to have the bath room and plumbing convenient and nice, if you are obliged to cut off on something else.

That Double System of Plumbing.....

we are putting in many houses, is a convenience well worth looking into. It can be placed in any house. With it you have soft water for the bath and lavatory purposes and with the turning of a valve you can run city water through the pipes. A motor elevates the soft water automatically. # Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific, reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no poisons, mercury, or other mineral.

GRANT W. WANDELL, AFTON, DEAD

Mrs. Waggoner Recovering From Effects of a Fall—Personal News

Afton, July 22—After an illness of three weeks' duration, Grant W. Wandell died at the home of his parents last Sunday morning at 5:30 o'clock. Had the deceased lived until Monday he would have been twenty-seven years of age, having been born at Janesville, July 17th, 1872. Funeral services were held at the family home last Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Wm. Todd, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. The interment was at Otter Creek cemetery, three miles north of Milton Junction. Mrs. David Waggoner is slowly recovering from the effects of a fall sustained last week, in which she was so unfortunate as to dislocate her left shoulder. It will be some time before she regains full use of her arm. Mr. and Mrs. A. Gowar are rejoicing over the arrival of their first born. It is a boy and both mother and son are doing nicely. At a special meeting held last week, Afton, M. W. A., decided to secure temporary quarters for use as a camp hall and to procure only the necessary equipment to resume work. Miss Cora B. Osgood and Misses Alice and Hyla Eldredge are spending the week with relatives, and friends. They expect to spend one day at Monona Lake assembly before returning home. Rev. E. B. Edmunds, of Beaver Dam, the Wisconsin representative of the American Baptist Publication society, occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church last Sunday morning and evening. The tin portion of the roofing on the public school building has been newly painted, Albert W. Stark wielding the brush. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Uehling, Eddie Bartels and U. G. Shoppers, July 22—The telephone company is setting poles in this village and we will soon be able to communicate with the outside world. The scrub nine is too much for the Woodmen playing ball. A game is being arranged between the first mentioned nine and the Royal Neighbors. The Royal Neighbors held a regular meeting Tuesday evening. Their gatherings are interesting and well attended. The celebration and picnic that was to have been held the Fourth will be held soon. See bills later. A. D. Parker went to Chicago this week. Barley is being cut and other grain will soon follow. Mrs. Buck, who has been quite ill the past week, is not improving very fast. James Parker is visiting at Delavan. Bert Skimeall is spending a week at home. George Deann arrived here Sunday night with a carload of Montana horses, which he offers for sale at reasonable prices. Tobacco looks well and is growing fast. James Truesdell has a field of spring wheat that is full of chinch bugs. Miss Jennie Excell, of Chicago, is visiting Miss Ida Sweet. The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church will hold a lawn social at Mrs. E. P. Bostwick's Wednesday evening, July 26. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Farmers are very busy, harvesting, and help is scarce. The crops are good. A heavy storm would do much damage now.

THE SUN AND GEN. OTIS.

The New York Sun is not stampeded by the hue and cry of the people who never went to war, and therefore know nothing about it, but gives credit where credit is due. Concerning General Otis, The Sun has this to say:

One of the Manila correspondents who contribute to the carping just now, in vogue describes General Otis as "a tawny old man, unaccustomed to anything but regimental command, and saturated with the ideas and methods of a routine clerk." The value of this criticism will be apparent on noting that it is nearly six years since General Otis has had a regimental command, having received his well-earned star in the latter part of 1893. He is the senior brigadier of the regular army, and as such has held important departmental commands for years. He served in the Army of the Potomac, through some of its most tremendous battles, compared with which the bloodiest of the affairs in the Philippines, or, in fact, all of them put together, would seem like a skirmish. He was brevetted a colonel both in the volunteers and the regulars for gallant and meritorious services at Spotsylvania, and a brigadier general of volunteers for like services at Chapel House.

The facts set forth above are proven by a reference to the Army Register, where General Otis' record—with that of every other army officer—is set forth in detail.

The fact that General Otis has served his country faithfully, and well may not count in his favor, and it may be true that his Manila campaign has been a failure. But it should not be forgotten that he is at the front, and his critics are not. General Grant was as bitterly criticised during the civil war, yet he was one of the greatest generals that ever lived. The war department and the president and his advisers are familiar with the case, and their judgment is worth as much, at least, as the opinion of a few newspapers, and a few people. If General Otis shows himself incompetent, he will be recalled, and if not he will remain in command. Wars are not won in a day, and there is no case on record where talk ever won one in a life time.

And at this point in the trial of the case by the people, an objection is made to the statement that in the event of the repudiation of silver, "Altgeld will bolt," on the claim that it is immaterial, and incompetent. It is also also moved that the answer be stricken out on the ground that it does not bear on the question at issue, in that to "bolt the platform" may mean to swallow it, while to "bolt the ticket" means to abandon and oppose it. The objection is sustained, and the answer will be stricken out. Proceed with the case.

In concluding an editorial on "The Bicycle and the Sabbath," The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin says: "Why should what is innocent and convenient be forbidden merely because it is pleasant? Why should the devil have all the good things? The world moves! The prediction is confidently made that a time is at hand when Sunday bicyclists throughout Christendom who attend religious services will be accommodated with arrangements for checking their wheels at the church doors."

If Captain Tom J. Rogers, of Beloit, is not appointed a captain in the volunteer army, he will still have the satisfaction of knowing that Col. Schadel considered him the best captain in the First Wisconsin regiment—"the best regiment" as General Lee said "in the Seventh Army Corps." This is a high honor, indeed, but it is well bestowed. Captain Rogers' record in the volunteer army and in the national guard was above criticism.

Constant Reader—Yes. It is "boiler-plate," and is shipped each day by freight. The Associated Press supplies only telegraphic news by wire, and does not deal in boiler-plate or junk. If a real telegraphic dispatch should land in the shop you mention, all hands would die of heart failure.

The Chicago Chronicle, in discussing the Harrison-Altgeld-Bryan friction, declares that "the democratic party is bigger than any three men." Possibly, but even The Chronicle doesn't have the face to claim that it is bigger than four men.

General Funston says General Otis has not been conciliatory enough, while General Anderson says he has been too much so. In the face of this conflicting testimony, what are we to do? Trust in General Otis, of course.

By far the most graphic, entertaining, original, odd, vigorous and versatile of the published accounts of the late bicycle meeting was written by Editor O. A. Libby, of The Evansville Enterprise.

It is announced that the new secretary of war is to be an able attorney. But he will not be, we hope, what the military men commonly term "a guard-house lawyer."

The "sidewalk chiefs" at a fire are modest, retiring, and meek in spirit when compared to the amateur generals who know exactly what to do to conquer the Filipinos.

Mrs. L. B. Canniff, of 107 Cornelia street, says: "I doctored from time to time for the last eight or ten years for kidney complaint. I felt fairly well as long as I took medicines, but I left off I immediately became worse. At one time I had such a severe attack that I came near dying. The pain became so severe that it brought on nervous chills, my finger nails turned purple and I never suffered so much in my life. The medicine I took seemed to act as a stimulant while I used it, and finally recovered in a measure. During the last three years I suffered from attacks of headache, dizziness and backache. It was for these reasons, that on learning about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured them from the Janesville Co's. drug store and I can say they are a splendid remedy. The pain in the region of my kidneys was removed in a short time and since completing the treatment I have felt better generally. Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. ## JANESVILLE PEOPLE TALK GOOD ROADS

INTEREST MANIFESTED IN PROPOSED CONVENTION.

W. H. Moore, of St. Louis, a leader in the Good Roads Movement will soon visit us—now in Eastern Portion of the State—Local Interest Revived.

The interest in the good roads movement is being revived in the Bower City, as a result of the announcement of the visit of W. H. Moore, of St. Louis, president of the State and Interstate Good Roads and Public Improvement association, who informs us that he will visit Janesville to confer with our people and if a sufficient interest is manifested, to designate it one of the twelve Wisconsin cities at which good roads and public improvement conventions will be held. The main object of Mr. Moore's visit here will be to learn whether we want one of these conventions or not, but judging from the agitation that is being carried on among the local enthusiasts, we have not the slightest doubt but that the movement will receive the encouragement it deserves.

Preparations should be made in advance to receive Mr. Moore and as soon as he presents his appearance we should organize at once. This is a movement that should commend itself to our people and make good roads advocates of each and every citizen.

If the government of a community is defective in any or many channels, who is to blame? If the most representative citizens do not always appear in the official roster of a municipality or state, what is the reason? If legislative representatives do not in many instances reflect the highest available personnel of intellect, thrift and honesty, who should be censured for such imposition? If any community languishes and decays under incompetent administration, may we ask who is responsible for such iniquity? If the commonwealths of Wisconsin, Mississippi, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, or any other of the grand galaxy of states forming the greatest republic of all time, the United States, are sustaining, as reported, annual losses of millions of dollars from swamp, wastage, the unnecessary overflowing of streams, the wanton destruction of forests, the dead load of large tracts of uncultivated lands, the daily belching forth of poisonous cargoes of smoke from desiccating plants, factories, railway and steamboat engines, that disfigure and destroy buildings, contaminate the pure oxygen of the air, wither animal and vegetable life, and thus spread disease among the whole animal kingdom, who permits it?

If the state or national government recognizes a criminal condition of 1,500,000 miles of muddy traveled pathways, many states possessing more than 100,000 miles, leading in all directions as avenues over which to market the products of the soil; factory, the transmission of mail service and all other means of social and commercial exchange; if the streets and sewage of cities are neglected, clogged and congested so that they become cesspools of filth and death, breeding dens of disease, may we not seriously question ourselves and answer, who is responsible for this unholy exhibition that spreads itself broadcast over all the land in this so-called splendid age of progressive achievements?

These stupendous, shiftless, criminal neglects certainly do not arise from any absence of educational advantages and warnings. In their very midst, the press is alert, new churches are lifting their spires to heaven, schools are being built, colleges endowed, art galleries, museums, parks and other educational temples are abundant. The land is swarming with new creed missionaries; conventions assemble by the thousands to cure existing evils—the taxation for the administration of government has grown so stupendous that figures are bewildering. It costs the struggling people who are so fortunate as to live within the circumference of greater New York, an annual tax levy of $91,000,000 to satisfy the increasing greed of official rapacity; $500,000,000 are invested in criminal and charitable asylums, the heritage of this pure democratic government. It costs $100,000,000 to annually maintain them.

The good roads movement is paramount to all others and is awakening the nation to its sense of duty and it is to be hoped that Janesville will not lag and keep pace in the progressive strides that are being made along these lines. Should a convention be held in this city, it is said that a piece of road will be built as an object lesson.

COHEN MUST ANSWER TO AN INFORMATION

BAIL WAS GIVEN FOR ONE THOUSAND.

To Be Filed August 2nd at 10 o'clock—Signers of the Bond Were Abe and Louis Hassell, of Milwaukee—Charged With Defrauding an Insurance Company.

In the municipal court this morning Isadore Cohen was held to answer to an information to be filed August 2, at 10 o'clock a. m. He is charged with defrauding an insurance company and was practically held for trial after the examination yesterday, though the record of the fact was held open until today to enable him to get his bondsmen here. Bail was given for $1,000, the signers of the bond being Abe and Louis Hassell, two brothers, of Milwaukee. $700 in cash was deposited on the spot, and a bond given for $300.

Fined For Using Preservative.

Two milk dealers of Janesville were ushered into the municipal court yesterday afternoon to answer to the charge of doping their milk by the use of preservative, upon which the state food and dairy commission is making war.

One of the accused parties was fined twenty-five dollars and costs or a total of $27.66, which he paid. An error in the name of the second party was made and the case was dismissed.

The local druggist who disposed of the preparation, it is said, has been notified to stop its sale.

Assistant Dairy and Food Commissioner W. W. Chadwick procured samples of milk recently and sent them to Madison to be tested. As a result of the test these arrests were made and it is intimated that other arrests are to be made in the near future. The law is very strict and it would be well for the local dairymen to be cautious.

The Danger Signal of Life

Mr. G. H. Snyder, a well known citizen of Lawrence, Kan., said: "I am now seventy years of age. About three years ago I experienced a coldness or numbness in the feet, then creeping up my legs, until it reached my body. I grew very thin in flesh, appetite poor and I did not relish my food. At last I became unable to move about. I consulted several distinguished physicians, one telling me I had locomotor ataxia, another that I had creeping paralysis. I took their medicines but continued to grow worse. Almost a year ago a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Before I had finished my first box I found they were benefiting me. I used twelve boxes in all, and was perfectly cured. Although it is six months since I used my last pill there has been no recurrence of the disease." From Lawrence Journal.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are never sold by the dozen or hundred, but always in packages. At all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. 60 cents per box, 6 boxes $2.50.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played Yesterday in the Two Leading Leagues.

But three games were played in the National league yesterday, a majority of the teams being on the journey which transfers the seat of war from eastern to western territory. Pittsburgh dallied with the Quakers long enough to secure a victory, thereby accommodating the champions by sending the Pennites down to third place. Cleveland, playing transferred games in Washington, broke even on a double-header with the Senators. The games:

At Washington—
Cleveland ..... 0 0 1 1 1 1 0 1—3

Second game—
Washington ..... 3 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—5
Cleveland ..... 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0—3

At Pittsburgh—
Pittsburgh ..... 0 0 0 0 6 0 0 0—6
Philadelphia ..... 0 1 2 0 0 0 0 0—3

Western League.

At Indianapolis—Indianapolis, 4; Kansas City, 3.
At Grand Rapids—Grand Rapids, 6; Minneapolis, 4.
The Buffalo-St. Paul and Detroit-Milwaukee games were postponed on account of rain at Buffalo and Detroit.

WHITNEY DENIES THE RUMOR.

Does Not Intend to Ask Dewey to Be Democratic Nominee.

New York, July 22.—A cable to the World from London says: "William C. Whitney was asked by the World's London correspondent if he has come to Europe to get Admiral Dewey to consent to be the next democratic candidate for president. The ex-secretary of the navy answered: 'There is nothing whatever in it. I came to Europe for rest—nothing else. I don't expect that I shall see Admiral Dewey unless he comes to London, which the newspapers say he does not intend to do.'"

More Wages for Glass Blowers.

Muncie, Ind., July 22.—The committee having in charge the wage question of the lamp chimney workers reported that an advance of 10 per cent had been agreed upon. Manufacturers insisted on a reduction of wages, and say they cannot meet machine competition with a 10 per cent advance. The wage committee further asked a reduction of the machine men's hours of labor from nine to eight. A scheme for limiting the production of the machines was also put forth. Widespread trouble in the chimney trade is anticipated. The white line pressers reported in favor of last year's scale.

Democrats to Raise Funds.

Chicago, July 22.—The democratic national committee yesterday talked of raising $2,000,000 for the campaign fund of next year, but agreed that a battle of no mean proportions could be waged with $1,000,000. Urey Woodson suggested that if his plan, successfully worked in Kentucky, could be followed elsewhere the ways and means bureau would prove a veritable gold mine. In thirty days he raised $10,000. His method was to meet the principal democrats of every town and secure contributions of $25 from each one.

Young People in Convention.

Ligonier, Ind., July 22.—The eighth annual convention of the Ohio and Indiana conference of the Young People's Alliance of the Evangelical church opened Friday at Oakwood park, Syracuse. The sessions will continue three days, to be followed by the seventh annual convention of the Woman's Missionary society of Ohio and Indiana. The work of the alliance conference Friday was devoted to organization. The attendance numbers several hundred delegates.

Archie Reid & Co.

JANESVILLE, WIS.

To-day, to-morrow and every day this month will be extremely lively ones in this store on account of the SUMMER CLEARING ....SALE....

which is now in progress. Surrounding this "bill" you will find a long list of prices taken at random from many lines throughout the store, but if you fail to find any particular thing in which you may be interested it is safe to say that a visit to the store will find it, and at a bargain price. Take for instance, tailor-made wool suits, of which we show an unusual line. If you contemplate a trip and would like something swell to wear, we will fit you out at about half the ordinary price, and we make alterations free. The same applies to ready-made wool skirts in black, also in plaids and plain colors.

The millinery department is also making half prices on every line in the stock, and you can buy a new hat or tone up the old one for a very small price. Flowers, fancy ribbons, ornaments, are included in the cut prices.

Many lines of wash goods are just now in big demand, and you will find excellent values in organdies, dimities, piques and ducks at 10c, 12 1/2c, 18c and 25c. We add new bargains to this sale every day, and call your attention to a purchase just made of 200 dozen shirt waists worth from $9 to $21 per dozen, of a retail value $1.25 to $2.50, which are now on sale at 69c, 89c and $1.19. And so it is in every department.

To mention all would take too much space and we will only add that your dry goods trading can be done in this store during this sale to your material advantage.
